

Current Money-System

Money is today seen as a cycle that has to circulate.

Today you have to take something away from people through taxes (tax revenue) to give it to other people about tax expenditures (social benefits) or to invest it (infrastructure, schools, administration, etc ...).

This procedure is limited in itself.

Future Money-System

Money is seen as a river that has to flow.

Without taxes and without interest.

An Universal Basic Income is paid directly to all people via the national banks - so that they can develop freely.

All other government expenditures are serviced via the National Bank.

For free people, peace, justice and natural economic cycles.
